this is not a formal letter. this is the guts of the situation. folks, a major use permit on g road? really? no, thank you. no. just no. just plain no. there is no one in albion, on g road, or on albion ridge who wants this. no one. every reason is sufficient. safety: roads, fire, traffic, water. economy: housing, housing, housing. purpose and existing laws: residential neighborhood, density. and the nitty gritty: the destruction of community, the audacious ignorance of the existing situation, the greed for money, the ignoring of precedence, zoning law, vision of life style and needs the existing human beings and their habitat... did i mention roads, traffic.. the fact that there is no egress from albion ridge in case of emergency. the fact that all volunteer and official agencies and individual residents are stretched to their limits trying to provide a safe and healthy environment for residents. a simple no is sufficient. no, you cannot buy a piece of land and change all the laws and intentions attached to that land. not to mention that thus far this business venture has already ignored the surrounding properties. this is not only a physical and legal issue. this is destructive to the actual psychological and societal integrity of the area. community. this is hard to measure but completely true, commercial customers are not the same as neighbors. no matter how nice they are, it is not okay, it is just not okay. no. no. no. albion resident with children and grandchildren born and raised here. yeh, they grew up with neighbor kids. not hotels next door. residents support the community. aaarrghh. zo abell
